DAPC TO BEGIN SEARCH FOR NEW PRESIDENT

May 10, 2016– As announced in today’s Development Authority of Polk County (DAPC) Board Meeting, a search will soon be underway to find a new President as Rachel Rowell looks to vacate the position sometime this summer. In order to continue the level of service provided by this department to existing and new businesses, it is the DAPC’s intent to hire someone as soon as possible in order for training to occur before Ms. Rowell leaves.

A position description will be available on www.PolkGeorgia.com website under Economic Development > Who We Are by Friday, May 13th.

The Mission of the Development Authority of Polk County (DAPC) is to pursue new jobs, economic growth, and development in Polk County through assisting existing industries with expansions, as well as recruiting new business and industry to Polk County. The President/CEO is responsible for furthering the business development aspirations and strategies of the community as defined by the DAPC board and economic development stakeholders from the public and private sector.
